The Northern Belle is on her way once again to be stored away until her fate is decided. The riverboat was once destined to be the site of the new Silver Slipper Casino headed for Bayou Caddy, but casino investors abandoned the idea of using the boat when they secured a deal to buy the much larger President's Casino barge.

On Wednesday, June 29, at 6 p.m. a Public hearing will be held at the Coast Electric Conference Room on Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis to discuss the casino project and activities related to the relocation of the barge.

Activities will include dredging and construction, including Benigno is from Waveland. He enlisted in the Army in October 1982 serving two years with the 24th Infantry Division at Fort Stewart, Georgia. In 1986, he attended the University of Southern Mississippi where he received an early ROTC commission in May 1988 and graduated with a Bachelor's degree in Personnel Management in May 1989.

Major Benigno attended the Field Artillery Officer Basic Course at Fort Sill, Oklahoma in 1989. His first assignment was with the 1st Battalion, 3rd Field Artillery, 2nd Armored Division at Fort Hood, Texas where he served as a Fire Direction Officer during Operations Desert Shield/Desert Storm. After the Gulf War, Major Benigno served as a Company Fire Support Officer and Platoon Leader with 2nd Battalion, 82nd Field Artillery, 1st Cavalry Division at Fort Hood, Texas.

Inauguration is Wednesday for Bay mayor, council

Bay Saint Louis Mayor Eddie Favre will begin his unprecedented fifth term as Mayor during inaugural ceremonies planned for Wednesday, June 29, 6:30 p.m. at City Park. Members of the City Council will also give their oaths of office at the ceremony held on the park's shoofly.

Maurice Singleton, Jr. will serve as Master of Ceremonies, and dean of the Circuit Court, the Honorable Judge Kosta Vlahos, will deliver the oaths of office. This will be Judge Vlahos' third time to administer the oath to the Mayor and long term Councilman James C. Thriffley, III.

The Honorable Bishop Thomas J. Rodi of the Diocese of Biloxi will give the invocation. Fr. Michael Tracey of Our Lady of the Gulf will join him in giving the benediction.

Mrs. Rob Compretta will sing the National Anthem and other selections for the event.

Mayor Favre, who first took office July 1, 1989, will become the longest serving Mayor in Bay Saint Louis history, going back to documented evidence from 1858. In his fourth term he shared the honor with the late John Scafide. Mayor Scafide's son, John, Jr. has served as the city's attorney for six terms.

District Two Councilman James C. Thriffley, II will begin his eighth term. Councilman Thriffley was first elected to serve 1973 when Bay Saint Louis adopted the Mayor-Council form of government. He is the longest serving councilman in the state.

Joining Councilmen William E. Taylor, Doug Seal and Robert J. Compretta will be newly elected District Three Councilman Jeffrey Reed. Reed was elected to his first term this May.

The public is invited and light refreshments served in the park will follow the ceremonies. Guests are asked to refrain from parking on S. Second St. in front of the City Hall. Parking is available at the nearby depot, City Park Avenue, and other areas of Second St.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre celebrates earlier this month with granddaughter McKenzie after election results are read declaring him the winner for a fifth consecutive term.

Ladner 'excluded' from board meeting

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

The Hancock County School board called two special meetings on Friday, each within two hours of each other.

The first meeting, held at 10:30 a.m., was called to deal with the district's insurance policy. At their last meeting, the board voted to procure insurance for the 2005-06 school year. The second meeting, called for 1 p.m. at short notice, dealt with out-of-state travel arrangements for students and teachers.

The board also accepted bids for renovations of the alternative school building, and for the purchase of student planners for Hancock High.

Board member Peggy Ladner, district 4, Ladner, who said she was traveling to Jackson for a state school board function, felt she was excluded from the second meeting, as the other board members knew she would be leaving.

"I am so furious," she said. "They felt they needed to call the meeting because David Kopf refused to approve travel retroactively."

I understand why they felt the need to call the meeting because the superintendent refused to approve the travel, but I don't understand why they scheduled it when they did."

Ladner said she had nothing against the two items on the agenda, but stipulated that she would not have voted for the other two items, because they were not necessary to take them up at a special meeting.

State law requires most governmental bodies, including school boards, to post notices announcing meetings in a public place within one hour of the board president's call.

Board president Morgan Ladner said he called the meeting because out-of-state travel funds had not been approved for 20 students who received an invitation to cheerleading camp in Pascagoula, which begins next week.

"We called a meeting after it was brought to our attention that some of our students weren't going to be allowed to travel out of state without board approval," Morgan Ladner said. "I called the meeting at 1 p.m. because I thought it was better to give people time to have lunch and then return."

The out of state travel was scheduled to be approved at the board's regular meeting last week, but since the entire agenda was voted down, none of the items up for vote were dealt with.

"Our disagreement was going to cancel that trip," Morgan Ladner said. "I didn't want that."

Peggy Ladner said that since the trip was not scheduled for until the 28th, the meeting could have been held on Monday. Also, she said, the superintendent has occasionally polled the board to request that travel arrangements be approved retroactively and refused to do it in this instance.

"By law, the only time you can sanction something is when the board meets," Kopf said. "On occasion you will get some camp activities that are the day before the meeting. If something occurred, it would not be sanctioned by the board, because the board cannot take action."

'I Love America Day' fundraiser

THE SEA COAST ECHO Hancock North Central is the oldest and largest elementary school in Hancock County and until recently was using the original playground equipment. When the 2005 school year began the playground was deemed unsafe. In March it was bulldozed away. Approximately 750 children, grades Pre-school through 5th had no playground this year and will otherwise have no playground next year.

There is no funding available from either the state or county to purchase needed replacement equipment.

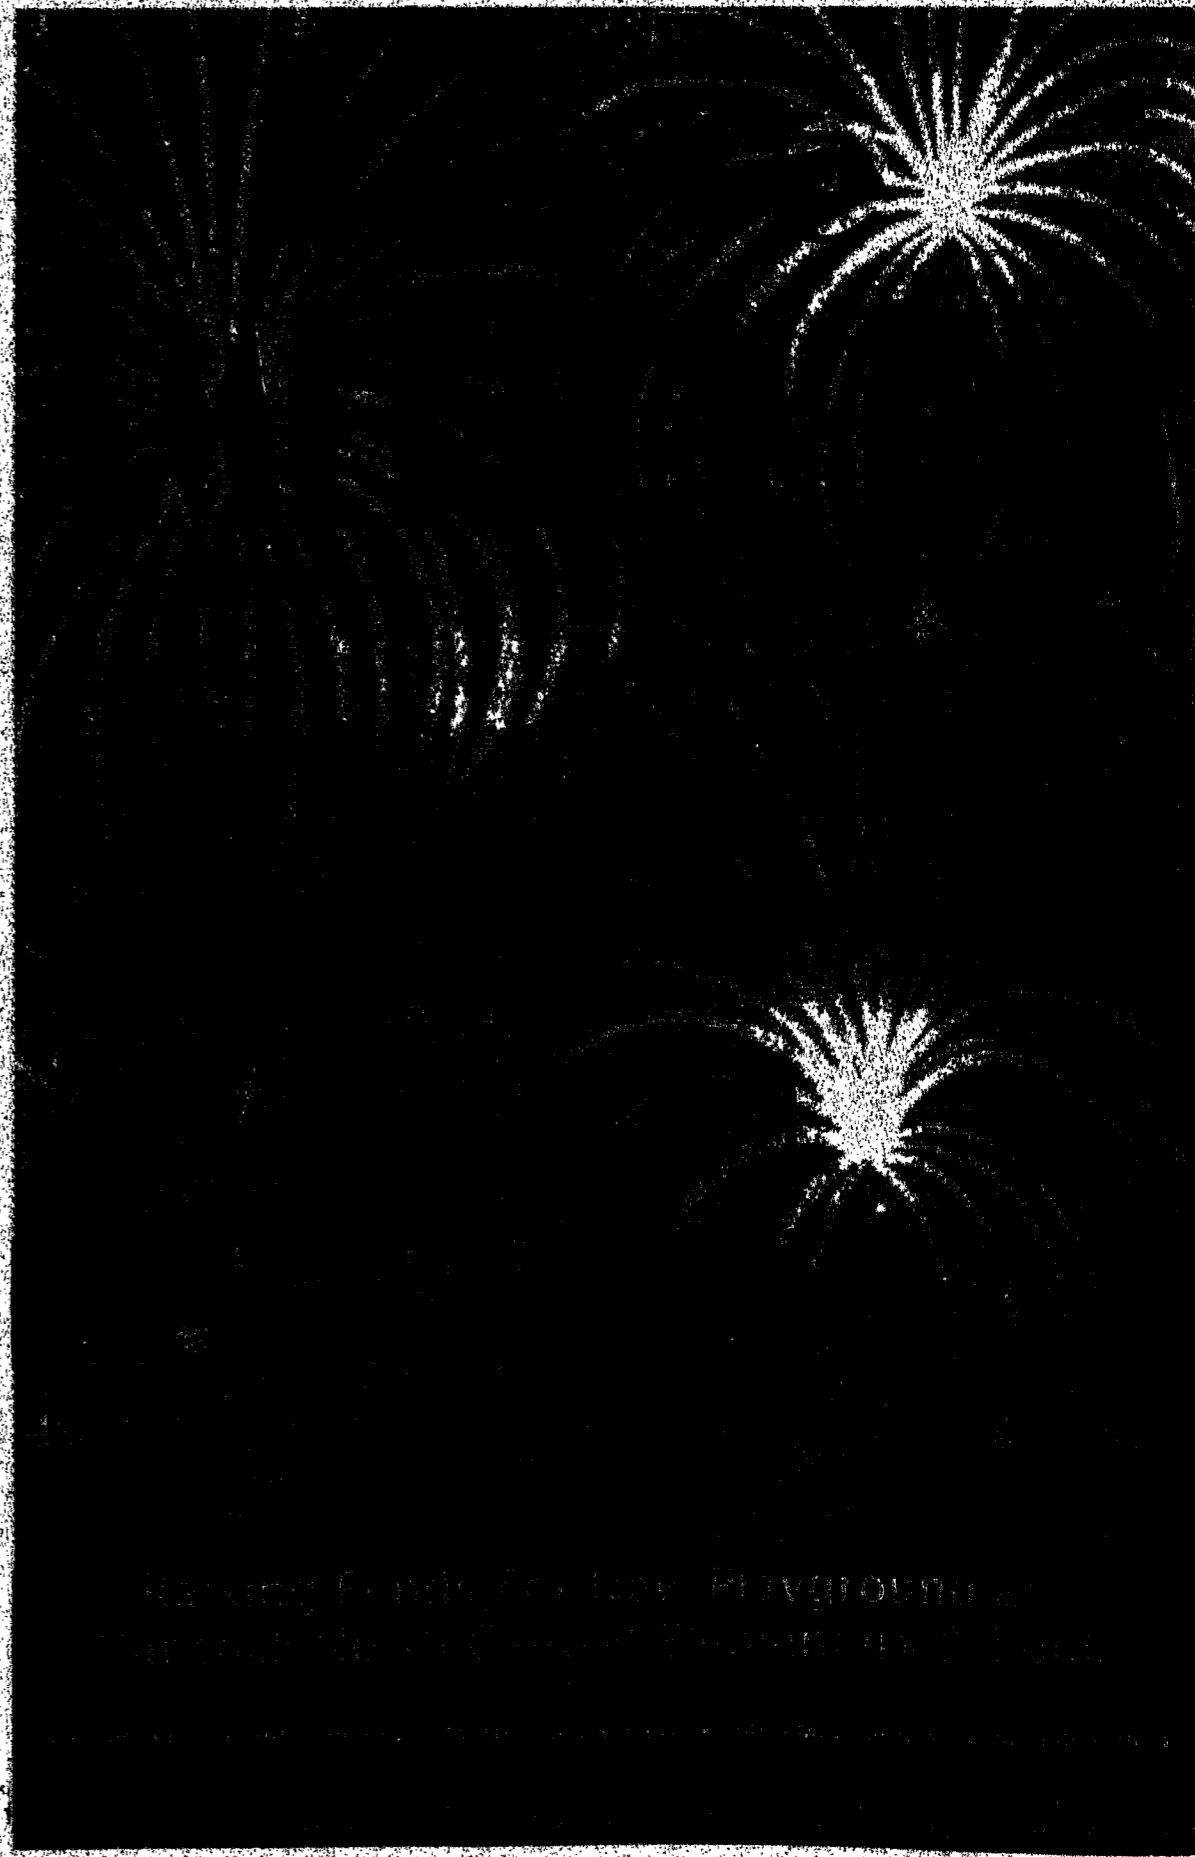

Bayou Talla Fellowship

in Kiln is partnering with the North Central Parent-Teachers Organization to raise over $20,000 to have a safe, serviceable playground installed before school begins in August. To help raise these funds Bayou Talla will dedicate all the proceeds for its 4th annual I Love America BBQ cookoff. Each year the Kiln Church hosts the event to raise funds for some community need.

"Our church is part of our community," says Mike Wells, Senior Pastor at Bayou Talla. "God has placed our church here to be a blessing. One way we do this is by giving back when there is a need." All funds collected for this event go to the community. There will be a morning service at 10 a.m. at the church to honor Hancock County Educators. The Cook-off begins at 6 p.m. and will include steak, chicken, and assorted condiments. Various bands will be performing. Inflatable rides, dunking booths, and games will be available, with a giant fireworks display to end the evening.

The Sunday 6 p.m. Independence Day Weekend event is open to everyone. Those wishing to participate in the cook-off or provide donations should call 255-1118 for information.

Domestic call leads to arrest for 'Ice'

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

A Hancock County resident was nabbed by K-9 unit Dax Saturday night following a vehicular chase and foot pursuit and charged with possession of a controlled substance, (crystal meth). Sheriff Steve Garber reports.

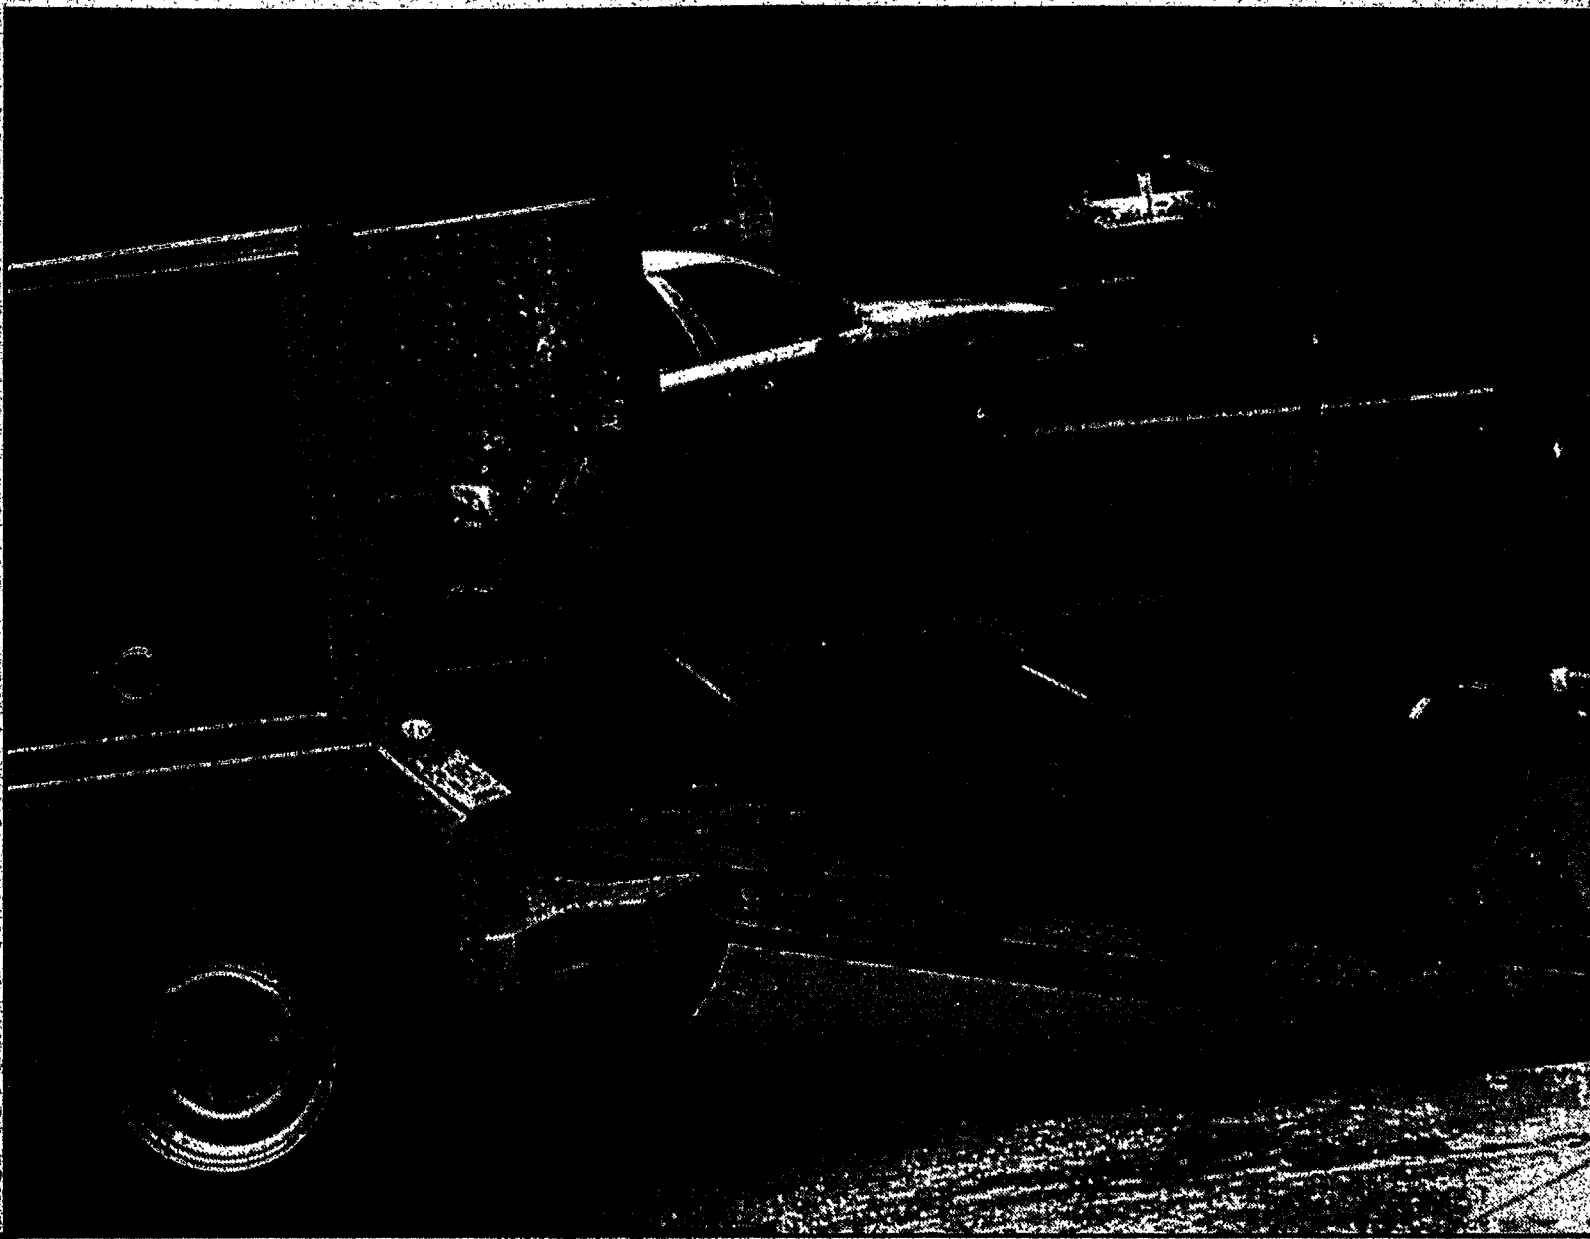

Narcotics Division director Major Matt Karl said, "Lt. Jimmy Esposito and K-9 Dax was answering a possible domestic in Diamondhead Saturday night when he was informed that one of the parties had fled the area. Esposito spotted a suspected vehicle and gave chase."

"Eventually, Esposito negotiated the suspect to stop in the Diamondhead Community. But he got out of the vehicle and began to run. He was told to stop several times and refused. The suspect was then nabbed by DAX," Karl said. "The suspect, Kenneth W. Page, 42, of Edwin Ladner Road, was taken to Hancock Medical Center for treatment. Deputy Brandon Hendry in doing an inventory of Page's clothing, found two small bags of crystal meth, (street named Ice). Following medical treatment, Page was taken to the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility and charged with possession of a controlled substance and no bond set at that time."

"Since Page was out on bond from a previous crystal meth charge in March, we are trying to have that bond revoked, as he is still lodged in the local jail," Karl added.

Agent Push Phillips is handling the case, Karl said.

A robot places a can filled with old blasting caps into the Biloxi Police Department's Bomb Disposal Tank on Friday at the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

Biloxi P.D. Bomb Squad aids Bay P.D. in disposing of blasting caps

ECHO STAFF REPORT

The Bay St. Louis Police Department on Friday got a little robotic assistance to help defuse a potentially explosive situation.

According to a report issued by Bay Police Chief Frank McNeil, "at 2:45 p.m., a concerned citizen came to the (department) with a rusty tin cup containing what he thought were blasting caps that he had found while cleaning out an old garage."

McNeil said Detective Joe Kepfer "took control of the item and placed it outside the police department, where it was under security" by the police, with assistance from the Bay St. Louis

Fire Department.

Detective Don Watson learned the blasting caps were copper-jacketed, non-electric mercury fulminate or lead azide, McNeil said, "that are extremely dangerous and can detonate when exposed to heat, shock or static electricity."

Watson cleared the area and summoned Cpl. H. Matthew Carver to secure the area with his patrol unit. A ballistic vest was placed over the can.

McNeil then contacted the Biloxi Police Department to request assistance from its Bomb Disposal Unit, the only such unit on the Coast.

Biloxi officers Brian Kestner and Tim Hendricks arrived and used "robotic equipment to carefully place the can in the Bomb Disposal Tank, where it was safely detonated," McNeil said.

Any time someone finds blasting caps or some other explosive device, they should not handle it but immediately notify the police, McNeil said.

Cyber scammer tries to fleece Diamondhead 'representative'

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus
Sheriff Steve Garber states that a Diamondhead resident recently came to the sheriff's office reporting that he had been a victim of an Internet Scam.

The victim stated that he had responded to an offer on a business website, which stated Represent Us (Be Our Representative). Wherein the company identified itself as an Importing/Exporting business and offered a 10 percent commission to individuals who collect payment from their USA customers. Garber's report said:

How the Scam works: The company tells its victims that they will be receiving a check from an individual and provides the victim with the individual's telephone number.

The company then mails the victim a counterfeit check, contacts the victim and instructs them to deposit the check, and once the check has been deposited, contact the telephone number given to them, and that individual will instruct the victim where to send 90% of the amount of the check they deposited.

Investigators believe the scam is a variation of what is referred to as the Nigerian Scam, that has been operating for a number of years, and that this particular scam seems to be based in Toronto/Ontario area. Investigators also want the public to be aware that the Federal Bureau of Investigation, (F.B.I.), maintains a website (www.ic3.gov) where businesses and individuals can report Internet White Collar crimes.

Sheriff Garber did add that the individual who reported this incident was fortunate, because his bank notified him that the $23,000 check was counterfeit before he had sent any money to the perpetrators of the scam.

"If it is good to be true, usually it is not true," Garber said.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

One of the subjects I have been involved in discussions on for several years, is some type of system to reach residents of the county during an emergency.

These discussions were at Civic Defense meetings, and never really got off the floor, as an old saying goes, because of the initial and monthly costs.

Well, funding is no longer the problem, as the Hancock County Emergency Management Agency, (EMA which is the combining of several agencies, including Civil Defense, Fire Marshall, etc.), now has such a service activated.

A grant was received in 2004 by Hancock EMA for the equipment which is referred to as Reverse 911 Interactive Community Notification System.

The monthly telephone lines which there are 25 designated BellSouth telephone lines, is handled by Hancock County's E-911 Commission.

The Reverse 911 System, gives EMA an avenue to notify every resident of Hancock County with BellSouth telephone service, a pre-recorded message on a county-wide, or specific area on all types of emergencies.

For instance, flood warnings could be issued to folks in the flood zones of the county, information on hurricanes, and so many other emergencies.

If a person does not subscribe to a BellSouth telephone service, and also if they would like to include their cell telephone number to be notified in case of emergencies, they can call the EMA office at 228-467-9226.

There are several types of services on the market, and Hancock EMA director Brian Adam feels the Reverse 911 Service is the best available.

During emergency callings, if a line is busy, the telephone subscriber will be automatically recalled. If no one is at home and the homeowner has an answering machine, a message will be left.

The Reverse 911 System covers the entire county, including the municipalities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

Well, Hancock County, surrounding supporters and the State of Mississippi, gave a great presentation in trying to secure the EADS North American facility to the Stennis International Airport. Mobile, AL, was the successful site selected in which Hancock was one of the four finalists.

Our Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission did a tremendous job in trying to secure the second largest aircraft manufacturer in the world.

But as Port & Harbor Director Hal Walters says, since Mobile was selected, the Mississippi Gulf Coast could benefit by landing support services and parts suppliers for the project.

For sure, Hancock County received worldwide attention in the EADS venture, so we should see side benefits coming our way.

Great work folks!

Crossroads or Cross Hairs?

Throughout American history, people of all cultures have sought freedom and opportunity in our nation - legally, for the most part. We know that immigration is an integral part of American history that has made us so successful. We trumpet America's being a unique crossroads of so many diverse groups. Yet, illegal immigration is another story. Many illegal immigrants don't see America through some bright prism as a fertile crossroads, but see us through sinister cross hairs. No nation, including a melting pot like ours, can long endure unchecked, illegal immigration, wide open to the world's worst characters.

I'm among the majority of Americans opposing amnesty for illegal aliens. I fully realize that many illegal aliens may have good intentions, but even the fraction of a percent who don't, could bring death and destruction to our shores. We all worry about the possibility of illegal alien terrorists crossing the border with nuclear chemical or biological weapons and conducting attacks that could dwarf anything that happened on 9/11. Clearly, our continued security rests on how we address this issue.

From the Senate

By U.S. Sen. Trent Lott

President Bush advanced a proposal designed to give illegal immigrants employed here a special "guest worker" status which resembled an amnesty program for illegal immigrants. I told the President frankly that anything close to amnesty - where illegal immigrants would be absolved of their crime of illegally coming to America - would not get through Congress.

The Senate is now considering a strategy centered first on tighter border enforcement, which includes funding to dramatically expand our border patrol.

I hope every Member of Congress will support enhanced border security regardless of party. The Federation of American Immigration Reform (FAIR), a nonpartisan group that has been studying this issue for decades, estimates that between 10 and 12 million immigrants lived here illegally in 2004. That's up from seven million just four years ago. Think about that. Between 2000 and 2004, the number of illegal immigrants living here increased by a number equal to Mississippi's entire population. No wonder we're already spending $12 billion on education for illegal immigrants alone. That doesn't include other costs associated with illegal immigration like increased crime, the strain on social services and lost tax revenue.

Don't think it only affects New York, Chicago or Los Angeles, either. Mississippi's proximity to Mexico and the Gulf of Mexico could put us right in the center of the cross hairs. FAIR says Mississippi gained almost 20,000 immigrants between 1990 and census year 2000. We probably have many more illegal immigrants here today. More concerning is that with each passing year, fewer and fewer illegal immigrants are becoming U.S. citizens.

Now I acknowledge that most of these men and women are coming here to work and obtain a better life, but that's really no excuse for inaction. After all, folks caught going 100 mph on the interstate always have a good excuse, too. But it's still illegal and dangerous. Like all our laws, our immigration policy - especially one impacting our national security - must be crafted around the worst case scenario, instead of someone's best intentions.

Like FAIR, Time magazine estimates that as many as three million illegal immigrants cross our borders each year - and time is ticking, no pun intended. America must enact a border strategy and immigration policy centered less around being warm and

Lott, Cochran should have spoken up on lynching

I am absolutely outraged by the absence of Sens. Lott and Cochran on the floor of the Senate to voice a vote on a resolution giving the group's formal apology for the failure to outlaw lynching.

With the international and national media descending on Philadelphia, Ms. for the trial of Edgar Killen accused of killing 3 young civil rights workers you would have thought they would have considered those of us who believe this trial is 40 years to late.

These Senators are a disgrace and an embarrassment to our state and certainly do nothing for Mississippi's image. For the life of me I cannot understand how these rich red-necks keep getting elected term after term. I can only hope with the influx of new people the voting pattern will change and finally, at last, these two will be put out to pasture and of course become richer by becoming lobbyists.

There will be many who disagree but ignorance is bliss and believe me there is enough bliss to go around.

From myself and many of my friends, we are sorry, very sorry even if our elected officials refuse to speak on our behalf.

911 -- new system

system available, as far as I am concerned, to notify the general public of any type of emergency in any section of the county, including Bay St. Louis and Waveland."

EMA was able to purchase the system through a Homeland Security Grant, while the County's E-911 Commission pays the monthly telephone bill for the system. The Reverse 911 System is an automated phone system that will be used in emergency situations to call each phone in Hancock County and deliver a prerecorded message on an emergency situation.

"Many of the services available charge by the number of telephone calls made, but, the Reverse 911 System we have charges a flat monthly fee," Adam said.

All four members of the Hancock EMA team is involved in the operation of the new system.

To service the system, BellSouth provides 25 designated telephone lines, according to John Favaloro, assistant Fire Marshall.

In explaining how the Reverse 911 system works, the EMA staff said, "If an emergency situation occurs, we can provide a prerecorded message on the emergency to the public, such as evacuation orders during hurricanes, tropical storms, flooding situations, severe winter storms, hazardous conditions and other unforeseen emergencies."

The system can notify the entire county, or any specific area, small or large. They said it could be a circular, rectangular, area, specific street, or section of the county.

Dee Lumpkin, EMA Deputy director said, "The system can contact all residents with BellSouth telephone service. Those with other services and even cell phones can call our office at 228-467-9226, and their telephone numbers can be added to the system."

On the other hand, if there is someone who does not want to be notified, they can request not to be called. Their name and telephone number will be placed in another file.

Adam also reported that Lap Links are now on order which will enable the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland to tie into the system.

"Even though the system covers the two cities in coverage from the EMA office, the Lap Links will enable the cities to tie in their computers with the Reverse 911 System. This will enable the Bay and Waveland to issue their special prerecorded messages on emergencies they may wish too," Adam added.

Hopefully it never happens, Adam said, but, if a train were to derail in the Bay or Waveland, police and firefighters would not have to go door-to-door to notify the affected residents and it could be done with the Reverse 911 System via telephone."

"From time to time there is a 'Boil Water' notice for an area, this information too, could be sent to the water works subscribers via their telephones," Tamara Patterson, Administrative assistant reported.

If a telephone line is busy, or no one answers during a call, they will be recalled. If there is an answering machine, it will also receive the message, Patterson added.

Anyone with any further questions on the Reverse 911 Automated Phone System are asked to call the Hancock EMA at 228-467-9226. Their regular office hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

Casino -- moving on

the excavation of a dry dock basin and the construction of a pile supported casino support system. About 25,000 cubic yards of material will be dredged and placed in a temporary disposal area on the sand beach adjacent to the site. Some of the dredge material will be used to partially fill the basin. An existing jetty will be moved 50 feet toward town and 50 feet of the beach will remain permanently removed.

For now, the Northern Belle will be stored in the Mississippi River at Greenville for safe keeping, said casino consultant Cliff McCarlie. The boat's fate is undecided but McCarlie said other investors were interested in her.

Meanwhile, the move signals a positive move to the future, McCarlie, because now preparations can begin for the new casino barge. Silver Slipper investors will operate the President until late November and then close it down for the move, he said, probably just after the first of the year if the permitting process goes well.

Preparations for the barge include digging out about 50 feet of the newly constructed beachfront at Bayou Caddy. The sand must be removed to allow for needed construction, McCarlie said at a recent supervisors meeting. Supervisors gave their approval on the idea if needed permits are obtained from the Corps of Engineers and DMR. After construction, the area will remain a fishing area, not be re-filled as a beach.

Next week the casino will begin to take job applications for positions at the new location in Hancock County. Five to six hundred jobs will be available with probably no more than half being filled by present employees of the President, McCarlie. Until the move, it is hard to know how many employees will follow the casino, he said. An office is set up on Lower Bay Rd. at its intersection with Lakeshore Rd. to take applications and conduct casino business.

The 17th annual 'Radio for Red Cross' rolls out the red carpet

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The American Red Cross and thirteen local radio stations are rolling out the red carpet to "Celebrate the Stars Who Donate." You too can be a star by giving blood and saving lives at the 17th annual "Radio for Red Cross" blood drive. This year's gala blood drive begins on June 28 with a goal to break a record and collect close to 1,200 pints of lifesaving blood during the critical time period just before the 4th of July holiday weekend begins. The drive will run for three days across all three Coastal counties.

The "Radio for Red Cross" blood drives will begin on Tuesday, June 28 at Edgewater Mall in Biloxi from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. near Chick-fil-A. Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis will host the drive on Wednesday, June 29 from Noon until 7 p.m. in the Bay Tower Hotel Cypress Cove Ballrooms. On Thursday, June 30, Singing River Mall in Gautier will host "Radio for Red Cross" from Noon until 7 p.m. The blood drive will begin near the old Service Merchandise location.

As a thank you for giving blood, donors will receive a free commemorative "Radio for Red Cross" t-shirt, a red Give Blood Awarenessbands bracelet, a coupon for a free chicken sandwich from Chick-fil-A, a can of Coca-Cola Zero, a free buffet coupon from Sicily's Ultimate Italian Buffet, a free burger meal from Sonic, an 8x10 free portrait with purchase from Sears Portrait studio, a free coupon from Domino's Pizza for an order of Cinnastix and a one-week free trial membership from Premier Fitness.

Every donor can enter the drawing for a free spa package from Spa at the Bay at Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis, a free golf package courtesy of the Bridges Resort at Casino Magic or a free season pass to the new Gulf Islands Waterpark. Childcare will be provided this year by the Kid Academy and the Singing River Candystripers. Domino's pizza will be served each day. Every 100th donor will receive a radio station gift pack filled with goodies from your favorite stations.

The participating radio stations are also sponsoring a contest for all local high schools and colleges on the Coast. The high school and college that sends the most students to the blood drive to donate will win a free DJ party at their school once classes resume in the fall. The schools can choose any of the 13 radio stations to host their party on campus.

This year's "Radio for Red Cross" will honor fifteen star blood donors from across the Mississippi Gulf Coast who have donated at least 20 gallons of blood according to Red Cross records.

The recognition will take place at 5 p.m. at the Edgewater Mall location on Tuesday, June 28, at the blood drive near Tulane University.

The American Red Cross, Alabama and Central Gulf Coast Region, has just issued a statement asking the public's help for patients due to low blood supplies. A slowdown in blood donations during the summer months is nothing new. Summer vacations and irregular routines prevent regular donors from giving. Yet more people are injured and hurt in accidents on the road, at home, on the water, or in the yard during the summer months.

The blood supply is dropping very quickly. Your Red Cross is asking everyone who can donate to do so as soon as possible. The blood supply for the region is on a slippery slope and without the public, help the blood supply will reach a critical level soon and lives could be jeopardized.

"Your Red Cross can only help patients if you will make the time to give blood," stated Mark Beddingfield, COO of the American Red Cross Alabama and Central Gulf Coast Region. You never know when it might be you or a loved one who needs that blood to live. Coast residents are being asked not to wait for an emergency to give blood; it may be too late! It's easy and safe to give blood and just about an hour out of your schedule can help to save at least two lives.

You can do your part to keep our region's blood supply safe by giving blood if you are 17 years old or older, weigh at least 110 pounds, have not donated blood in the past 56 days and are in general good health.

You can safely give blood every 56 days. The American Red Cross has recently relaxed guidelines for donors who have been in Europe or the United Kingdom since 1980. To see if you now qualify to donate blood again, please call 1-800-GIVE LIFE. Restrictions regarding new tattoos have also been lifted and donors no longer need to wait one year before giving blood in most cases.

For more information about the "Radio for Red Cross" blood drive, about giving blood or volunteering with the American Red Cross, please call the Red Cross at 892-2217.

GE Plastics Global Community Day

More than 30 volunteers from GE Plastics will build an outdoor learning lab next week at Gulfview Elementary School located in Lakeshore as part of GE's Global Community Day initiative.

GE Plastics employees will create an outdoor classroom setting for students to conduct study sessions and participate in hands-on demonstrations. Students will be able to explore scientific concepts through garden-based exhibits and activities.

Highlights of the new lab will be a weather station, composting systems, animal tracking, an archaeological dig site, bird blind, ground-water monitoring hole, horticulture test plots, a turtle pond and nesting areas for birds.

Gardens within the lab will include a butterfly garden, herb garden and fruit and vegetable gardens. Students also will be able to study weather, explore the outdoors, perform experiments and have real-life experiences with nature and the environment.

MGCCC surges up 11 spots in latest national Top 100 rankings

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Surging up 11 spots to No. 80 overall, Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College is once again ranked as one of the country's top 100 community colleges by Community College Week. This is the third straight year Gulf Coast has made the educational magazine's annual national rankings.

Gulf Coast is the only community college in the states of Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana and Arkansas to make this year's overall top-100 list. The ranking is based on number of associate's degrees awarded to students among the country's 1,300 community colleges.

"It's obviously a great day whenever your students and staff are nationally recognized," said Dr. Willis Lott, Gulf Coast president.

"Over the last two years this national ranking has come to mean a great deal to our college for what it represents. It's an honor we hear about throughout the year from our community."

The college was highly ranked in several lists the magazine compiled as part of this year's article, "View from the Top." Gulf Coast's education majors continued to excel, earning a No. 8 spot. This is the second year in a row the college has placed in the top 10 in this category.

The largest increase is in the college's business and management degrees. Gulf Coast came in at No. 33, up nine spots from the previous year. The college's health-related fields had another strong showing at No. 24 overall.

Colleen Hartfield, vice president for Institutional

Relations, said the college has a strong chance of breaking the top 80 again after this year's graduation.

"The college had another record-breaking graduation class in 2004-2005, up by more than 17 percent. Our position in this national ranking parallels our enrollment growth. Credit enrollment is up about 22 percent since fall 2000. Gulf Coast earned the No. 1 spot as Mississippi's largest community college when credit enrollment surpassed 10,000 students in 2003," Hartfield said.

Dr. Victor Borden and Pamela C. Brown, authors of "The View from the Top," compiled the list using data certified by the U.S. Department of Education from the 2003-2004 academic year. Borden reports more than six million students will be enrolled in two-year institutions in 2005 and said the value of community colleges can't be underestimated.

"Students of color, non-traditional-age students and students seeking alternative modes of learning through distance education continue to benefit from the existence of two-year colleges," Borden said.

Those benefits are seen every year throughout Mississippi's community and junior colleges, where 71 percent of the state's college freshmen are enrolled.

"Our colleges are the gateway to higher education for the majority of students in Mississippi."

"Three out of four students enroll at Gulf Coast with the plan to move on to four-year institutions, after they earn an associate's degree," Lott said.

Po' Boys and Stella's Day

Views From a Front Porch

By Bennie Shallbeter
Staff Writer
bshallbeter@coastecho.com
www.coastecho.com

It was a nice day, in fact, a beautiful day, and it was Mother's Day. I was happily messing around in the garage when Stella came out to get some vegetables from her garden. It was almost lunchtime and she was going to make a cucumber salad to go with lunch. We were lucky, the weather had been cooperating and we were starting to get the first of the season vegetables in.

I watched her for a moment and then had an inspiration. "Hey, baby duck. What about me taking you out to lunch?"

Stella quickly dropped the cucumbers in a basket and hurried back into the house. "Just let me wash my hands."

It took a few minutes longer to clean up, but we were soon in my pickup heading north on 603.

"Where are we going?"

"To that new fish market place, Cuz's. They're the people that took over from Thompson's Sea Food. They've started serving po' boys, too. I tried their shrimp po' boy last week and it was great. They lightly heat the bread."

Stella's answering umm was definitely subdued and I was about to reassure her that the po' boys were indeed as good as I was saying, when I realized I had gone by Cuz's.

"Their sign is too small or something. I missed it." I began slowing down for the next median break. "I'll turn up here and go back."

"Wait, Paul. Joyce told me about a place in the Kiln. Let's go check it out."

"But I want to take you to Cuz's."

"I know, but since we are heading that way, why don't we keep on going and look over the place in the Kiln. It won't take but a few minutes more."

We drove in silence to the Kiln. When we got there and found the place her friend had recommended, we found that it was closed on Sundays. I started to look for a place to turn around. The Kiln road is dangerously narrow.

"Paul, look we can keep on going, turn right at

Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey come to the Coast

BY BENNIE SHALLBETER

When the Hometown Edition of the 134 year old Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus arrives at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum next week it brings with it performers from a dozen nations. The smaller, more intimate version of the world famous circus will be crossing the country playing towns that may not have had a chance to enjoy their performances for 50 years or more. And they want to get to know you and your family. Audience interaction will be top on the list for this truly family oriented show.

tamer Ted McRae has been a circus performer for the past 12 years, but "I have been performing all my life," McRae said. He has been traveling with Ringling Bros. for the past four years when he was recruited as one of the stellar performers in the Hometown Edition.

He was discovered by producer Kenneth Feld and his daughter co-producer Nicole while working with lions and tigers in another circus. "The Felds already had someone to work with the lions and tigers," said McRae. "So they asked me if I would be interested in working with snakes and alligators."

McRae figured his "wild and crazy" personality would be perfect for the job. As a life long animal lover and childhood owner of dogs, cats, snakes and fish, he figured the alligator would take the most getting used to, he said.

He now travels the country with his wife, Rene, and sons Adrian, Jordan and Dorian, performing with the animals and now, acting as host for the circus. Rene does some of the catering for special events and runs the "pie car" back stage for performers. She sometimes cooks for as many as 130 people, or more. Oldest son Adrian participates in his father's performance and the two younger children participate in the finale at the end of each show. Then, every circus child old enough to walk, is brought out to take a stroll into the in the ring, to give them a little taste of the thrill of performance.

Many parents hope that their children will get the circus bug and become performers themselves. Families traveling with the show go back as far as seven generations of performers. Children are schooled on the road and families have the advantage of spending a lot more time together than they would in a more traditional setting. The tradition of the circus encourages those close family and community ties, said McRae. It's that tradition, the thrill of performing and whole lifestyle of circus life that McRae says keeps him, and his family, on the road year after year.

"It's a real community of people, an incredible community of people from all over the world," McRae said. "It is our family traveling from place to place to entertain your family."

Like any community, McRae says, you are closer to some people than you are to others, and some people come and love it and stay, and some chose to move on. On the whole, he says, the circus life is a magical life, filled with a people who have been given the chance to live their dreams.

"My favorite part is sitting in the portal area," McRae says. "That little area between the backstage and the front curtains that open on to the ring. That little place is magic-it is almost my turn to go on and the magic is about to begin. When you are there it doesn't matter what has happened during the day ... you leave your troubles behind and it becomes all about the performance and the people waiting in the seats."

For more information on the times and dates of performances please contact the box office at 228-594-3707 or Ticketmaster at 228-385-2600.

Views -- Stella's Day

Dolly's and take the road to Favre's mother's restaurant. Everyone says the food there is really great."

I looked over at her and she turned and studiously began looking out the side window. I went on to the stoplight at Dolly's and turned right to find Favre's. It was quite a ways down the road and during the time it took to drive, the cab of the pickup became filled with an icy silence.

Finally, we arrived at Favre's and the lot was packed with cars and people, all dressed up, heading inside. I drove once around the parking lot and then without a word, drove the pickup out the exit and headed back to Dolly's and then south on 603. If it was quiet in the trip going north, it was now the silence of the tomb in the cab of my small white Ford pickup.

When we turned in Cuz's parking lot, I told Stella to sit in their outdoor eating area and I would go inside and order. She looked at a family eating a large order of crawfish at one of the tables.

"Let me come in with you. I want to look at their menu."

We went inside and ordered a large po' boy, dressed and split with oysters on one end and shrimp on the other. I took two icy cold Barq's out of their cooler and we were soon sitting outside with the crawfish eaters.

I opened the Barq's while Stella divided the large po' boy. It became very quiet and after sprinkling the sandwich heavily with Louisiana hot sauce, I tore greedily into the many shrimp that were stuffed on my end of the sandwich, pausing only occasionally to gulp part of my Barq's. Finally I stopped, folded the paper carefully over the now empty po' boy space, leaned back and looked over at Stella.

She was smiling at me. She reached down and took another bite out of her po' boy. I noticed that she hadn't destroyed it as quickly as I had mine, but she was well along.

"You know, Paul," she said pausing to wipe her lips with a paper napkin, "this is the best po' boy I've ever eaten."

I shifted like a puppy on my bench. I sipped at what was left of my Barq's. I was happy, the day was beautiful and Stella and I were there together.

Advertising is an investment in the success of your business. Every business has some kind of competition, either within the town, nearby city or from mail order firms. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and buy elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their trading from one store to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your store.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing.

Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your store. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know the product lines you carry, the quality of your merchandise, the completeness of your service and the character of your store.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off!

Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise, you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have more impact than in any other medium. The Sea Coast Echo goes into the majority of the homes in Hancock County. The Sea Coast Echo is full of interesting reading, it is a part of our community. People like to read about people and The Sea Coast Echo is full of pictures and stories about local people. The most important reason to advertise in The Sea Coast Echo is that our readers are your customers.

If you're looking for the best advertising value for your money, then you should contact the advertising department at The Sea Coast Echo. One of our advertising representatives will be happy to discuss the many advertising options offered by The Sea Coast Echo. For more information you may call 467-5474, Monday through Friday 8am to 5pm, or stop by our office at 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

Since 1892, The Sea Coast Echo is proud to be a part of your community.

Just as farmers will sow seeds in order to raise their crops, those who follow God's ways are sowing seeds of our Lord's love. In the Bible, we are told the Parable of the Sower, who scattered his seeds in the field: some seeds fell along the path and the birds ate them; some fell on rocky ground where there was little soil; and, some fell among the thorn bushes, which grew up and choked the plants. But still, some seeds fell upon good soil, and these plants sprouted and bore much grain. Our Lord explains this Parable by saying that some people hear the message and disregard it, while others receive the message, but when trouble and persecution comes they simply give up. Still, there are others who hear the message, but the worries and concerns about this life choke out the good news. And then, there are those who hear the message, accept it, and bear much fruit. The way we live our lives should be an example for those around us, and we should try to reflect the love and compassion of our Heavenly Father. Nurturing and improving our relationship with God, and living our lives in a way that is pleasing to Him, will help us to sow seeds that bear good fruit.

You did not choose me; I chose you and appointed you to go and bear much fruit, the kind of fruit that endures.

Misperceptions can kill you

Jaws 1 and Jaws 2 introduced most of the world to at least part reality about sharks. The part reality, as caught live on news videotape, is that sharks mingle heavily with bathers on our warm coasts at spawning time and also during feeding time at dawn and dusk. Video footage shows that they even brush against waders and bathers at such times.

What is not part reality but falsehood are the overwhelming illusions that man-eating sharks are a constant and frequent threat to the lives of any people who enter the waters of oceans. The mostly unexciting reality of our relationship to sharks in our oceans is that only four people on the average are killed by sharks annually in all waters of the world.

Only four throughout the world? Admittedly, there are 70 to 86 shark attacks annually throughout the world, but, of these, only four or so prove to be fatal. In any case, it is a totally different picture from that presented by the sensational Jaws 1 and Jaws 2.

By strange comparison, about six people are seriously injured every year in the United States because blithely ignorant people insist on using their telephones during violent thunderstorms which feature powerful bolts of lightning.

Believe it or not, many more people than that are assassinated by coconut trees which drop their heavy pods on unsuspecting passers by. Amazingly, the six-to-eight pound pods of brazil nuts fall from a height of about 80 feet and do kill even more people than coconut trees do. However, there are no hard figures on fatalities from either tree.

Because of fatuous settlers who move into the swamp living quarters of alligators and who feed the ravenous saurians, more people are killed by alligators in Florida than are killed by sharks in all the seas and oceans of the world. Don't blame the alligators.

Box jellyfish put to shame the assertions and implied figures of Jaws 1 and Jaws 2. How can a creature which we can see clean through use poisoned tentacles to bring about the deaths of some 55 people each year? How undramatic and unsensational!

After reputedly rapacious sharks, those feline predators mortally feared by man and beast alike account for a mere 80 people killed annually. Yes, the lions, tigers and other big cats around the globe have a terrible reputation which far exceeds their kills.

The largest land animal ups the lethal ante to 300 humans killed every year. Elephants generally mind their own business until thoughtless people intrude upon their space. They discover that elephants run faster than we and will defend turf they consider their own.

Weighing in at more than 4,000 pounds, yet able to outrun a man, the hippopotamus has huge, powerful jaws which can bite a large crocodile in half. Unfortunately, it also knocks people out of boats and bites them in half, up to several hundred a year.

Somewhat surprisingly, scorpions kill some 1,000 people a year by injecting them with a deadly poison. Where they abound, people are wise to inspect their shoes before putting them on. Outside Rome in 1958, I looked up from bed and saw one on a wall above me.

Another thousand people are killed by crocodiles annually, mainly by the huge Nile crocodile or by the slightly bigger saltwater crocodile. The crocodiles eat anything which cannot destroy them, such as a rhinoceros which will bite a crocodile in half.

Bees around the world, mainly African, kill 1,500 people per year. Anaphylaxis, or hypersensitivity to bee, wasp, yellow jacket, hornet or ant venom, is so severe in some people that a single sting can bring about itching, hives, swelling in the throat or tongue, difficulty breathing or swallowing, dizziness, headache, stomach cramps, nausea or diarrhea, rapid fall in blood pressure, shock and loss of consciousness, even death.

Most people fear snakes, although we high school seminarians at St. Augustine Seminary in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi used to hunt and capture them live on our own property in the mid 1940s. Those included the fearsome cottonmouth and pigmy rattler.

Respect, if not fear, for snakes is richly deserved, as 40,000 people across the globe are killed by poisonous snakes every year. Most incidents of poisoning are due to surprise or carelessness, but thousands result from rituals performed with cobras or other serpents.

Far ahead of all these put together comes the most devastating non-human killer on earth. For untold millennia, the pesky mosquito has been killing humans at an incredible rate, right now about 2.7 million a year. The female mosquito injects germs like malaria and yellow fever while sucking mammal blood to develop the eggs within their bodies.

Only female mosquitoes bite, only the females of a few species attack human beings and animals, and only one or the other in those few species, such as anopheles or aedes, carry germs like malaria, yellow fever, encephalitis and filariasis. It is of some interest that individual mosquitoes sip up to one and a half times their weight in blood.

The World Health Organization has issued a warning that Asian influenza (bird flu) will trigger an international pandemic that could kill up to 7 million people. It is one of very few cases where a deadly disease has been transmitted from animals to people.

Are your perceptions about what can kill you being modified by the above-mentioned information? What about a possible revisit by the swine flu pandemic of 1918-19 which killed 500,000 Americans and some 20 million people worldwide?

"We have met the enemy and they are we!" What if you are challenged by the bold statement that, mosquitoes and everything else notwithstanding, we ourselves are hands down the biggest threat to our own life, limb and overall health and well-being?

It is not even a matter of controversy how most of us savage our own health, eating and drinking ourselves into an early grave excavated by heart trouble, hypertension, diabetes, cancer, severe allergies and all the secondary diseases attendant to those major ones.

Unfortunately, virtually all our perceptions of lethal agents, whether animal, plant or human, concern things outside ourselves, whereas the deadliest of all the roots of death and destruction in our lives lie within our own minds, words and unsafe behavior.

Were we saying something about man-eating sharks?

Reflections on Life

by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Scripture Says

By Ed Young

Know God in person

John the Baptist was having a dispute with the priests and Levites from Jerusalem. They came to John the Baptist wanting to know, who is He?

John answered them saying, "I baptize with water, but there stands one among you, whom you know not." John 1:26.

That statement by John is a truth that echoes among mankind today.

Many souls will confess they know this Jesus, the Son of God, but they really only know Him in a religious matter. Some only as a historical figure. How do you know Him?

John was telling these religious men in as much you are missing the Messiah. Why, because you are spiritually blind, and spiritually dead!

Throughout history, religious leader and church members will confess when asked, do you know the Lord Jesus Christ, personally? They will answer no, I know Him only as my church has told me who He is. That question usually will be an awakening; an awakening that is wonderful.

Soul searching will begin. Spiritual understanding is sought. God's Word becomes real and a must to read.

Hearing God's Word preached fills the heart with joy.

All these spiritual truths begin to bring life and sight to a dead and blind soul.

John the Baptist knew that the Levites and the priests were unaware that the Messiah is standing in their midst.

Today this same Messiah is standing in our midst.

Just as Jesus did in His ministry when on earth He does today. He beckons us to get to know Him.

This writer knew and believed in Jesus. But, did not know Him personally. I also believed I was a Christian. Until the day I was asked, "do you know Him personally?" I didn't.

Attend church regularly

The "Word" for the Week

Jesus, our bread from Heaven

We all need help and encouragement from time to time. This is true at work, in school and in sports. It is also true in the spiritual realm. This is why the Bible advocates church attendance.

"Let us consider how to stimulate one another to love and good deeds, not forsaking our own assembling together as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another" (Hebrews 10:24-25). We gather around the breakfast table or supper table for physical nourishment. In the same way, God's people gather once a week for spiritual nourishment. Now the bread, which God gives to sustain people like you and me is Jesus Christ. At first this may seem strange. But do you remember how God fed the people of Israel when they were in the wilderness after they came out of Egypt? God gave those people bread from heaven. But the ancient Israelites were not thankful to God for this gift of food.

As a result, these same people all died in the desert. Jesus explains that He is living bread. That is, He is able to give people like us needed spiritual nourishment to sustain us in the difficult times of life.

Speaking of Himself, He says, "This is the bread which came down out of heaven; not as the fathers ate and died, he who eats this bread shall live forever" (John 6:58). Jesus means that those who come to Him for life and help, receive eternal life.

They will never suffer eternal death in hell. It is so important to receive life and nourishment from Christ that the Son of God says, "My flesh is true food" (John 6:55). In other words, as a person needs physical food to survive physically, one also needs Jesus Christ for spiritual survival.

The Neville Brothers

The Neville's bring New Orleans soul to Casino Magic Bay St. Louis

THE SEA COAST ECHO The Neville Brothers will bring their unique style of R&B to the stage at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis, Friday and Saturday August 19 and 20 at 9 p.m. Tickets start at just $19.95 and are available at the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or at any Ticketmaster location. Premium seating is also available and you must be at least 21 to attend all shows.

With four powerfully unique personalities, the Neville Brothers thrive on an explosive fusion of diversity and unity.

The collective of talented brothers is world-famous for its embodiment of the New Orleans sound. Aaron, Art, Charles and Cyril Neville have expanded the horizons of New Orleans R&B while honoring the music's roots and tradition. Drawing on the vast resources and multiple styles of African-American music, The Neville Brothers have combined R&B, jazz, reggae, and elements of rock and Zydeco with a harmony-based funk groove all their own.

The careers of Art and Aaron Neville began in the early 50's around the street corners, on the porches and at house parties in the notorious Calliope Projects. Aaron is perhaps the best known of the brothers. His hits include "Tell It Like It Is" in 1966 and his duets in the '80's with Linda Ronstadt on "All My Life" and "Don't Know Much." Art first came to note well before Elvis, having recorded "Mardi Gras Mambo" with the Hawkettes in 1954. "Mardi Gras Mambo" continues to get heavy airplay and respectable sales during the local Mardi Gras festivities.

After the four put together careers separately and not having played together for eight years, the brothers united to help record the universally acclaimed "The Wild Tchoupitoulas" a year after their mother's death in 1975. They credit their uncle with getting them to join forces.

"He told us that our mother and father had always wanted to see us work together as a band," Charles recalls. "He knew that if we got together as a family, it would happen."

The brothers became a best-loved local attraction and in 1988, they won a Grammy with "Yellow Moon." Then in the 1990's, Brother's Keeper cemented their star status. The Neville Brothers have gold and platinum records in six different countries and have been the featured television performers on "Good Morning America," "Today," "Oprah," "Saturday Night Live," "Letterman" and "The Tonight Show."

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

Cold Case
On his deathbed, a boxing referee makes a confession about a match in 1976 in which a fighter was killed. Rush (Kathryn Morris) and her team reopen the case and discover that the dead man was no match for his opponent and had no business being in the ring with him. So why wasn't the fight stopped? The investigation turns up several people who had possible motives. John Finn and Jeremy Ratchford also star in "Yo Adrian."

7 p.m. on ESPN

MLB Baseball
Has it really been eight seasons since the Yankees and Mets first clashed in interleague play? Indeed, it has, and another year of six games between the metro rivals comes to a close tonight. Last month, a Shea Stadium attendance record for a three-game series was set as more than 165,000 fans watched Derek Jeter and the Yanks win twice. Jeter usually does his best work on the biggest stage, and for a regular season game, it doesn't get much bigger than this.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Movie: Changing Lines
Director Roger Michell's "Notting Hill" involving 2002 drama casts Ben Affleck and Samuel L.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Criminal Intent
Robert Carradine guest stars in "Gone" as a disturbed chess grandmaster suspected in the murder of a newly engaged woman. As Goren and Eames (Vincent D'Onofrio, Kathryn Erbe) investigate, they discover it'll take more than a couple of moves to solve this case, which also involves a pimp, a well-to-do family and a black-mail plot.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS

Mystery!
Inspector Thomas Lynley (Nathaniel Parker) is back in the new "The Inspector Lynley Mysteries." In "Pursuit of the Proper Sinner," he's in Manchester investigating what looks like a ritual murder. Havers (Sharon Small) has been demoted to a desk job, but she does her own investigation of the case in an effort to win back Lynley's respect and friendship. Lesley Vickerage and Timothy West also star.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Greatest American
The purpose of this show was to get people thinking about the meaning of both being great and being American, and it sparked some lively debate from the time the list of 100 candidates was announced. Votes from viewers narrowed down that list from 100 to five, and tonight, host Matt Lauer announces the winner, which is sure to lead to more water-cooler conversation.

8 p.m. on HALL

Movie: Murder Without Conviction
Newly departed from a convent, an ex-nun (Megan Ward) re-enters the outside world and promptly becomes entangled in a homicide probe—in this 2004 mystery movie. She takes up the cause of twin brothers (both played by David Praval) accused of having killed their mother when they were young. The former nun is supported by another religious devotee.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

When the bodies are identified, the killer resurfaces and attacks Bug (Ravi Kapoor) to intimidate Jordan (Jill Hennessy) and her colleagues into keeping silent. Woody (Jerry O'Connell) is suspicious when his brother (guest star C. H. Cioffi) is a O'Connell, Jerry's sibling, shows up to help up to help with the excavation.

In Focus

Tradition is upheld as current tennis greats continue their stand at Wimbledon — as do sportscasters John McEnroe, Ted Robinson, Mary Carillo, Bud Collins and Jimmy Roberts — with NBC's continuing coverage of early rounds of the tournament Sunday, June 26. Whoever the players might be at any given moment, the overall sense of majesty is maintained as the yearly event unfolds in the well-kept environs of the All England Lawn Tennis and Croquet Club. Hear his name and the immediate thought might be of someone who's had to deal with his own problems and those of wife Whitney Houston. But it's all part of "Being Bobby Brown," an unscribed Bravo series premiering Thursday, June 30. The show explores six months in the lives of singer Brown and those close to him, promising to show the warts as well as happier moments.

6 p.m. on 6-NBC
NASCAR Racing
What could be better for NASCAR fans than a Fourth of July weekend duel at Daytona in the Pepsi 400? With its one-two finish of Jeff Gordon and Jimmie Johnson in this race last year, Hendrick Motorsports proved its mettle in a restrictor-plate match by besting the usually Daytona-dominant Dale Earnhardt Jr., who wound up third. Gordon continued his winning streak here in February with his third career Daytona 500 victory.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Movie: Toy Story
In this computer-animated 1995 hit film, Tom Hanks lends his voice to toy cowboy Woody, whose happy life with his owner's other playthings is threatened by the arrival of flashy action hero Buzz Lightyear (voice of Tim Allen). Other voices are provided by Don Rickles, Jim Varney, John Ratzenberger, Annie Potts, R. Lee Ermey and Penn Jillette.

7 p.m. on BRAV
Movie: Clueless
Alicia Silverstone gives a star-is-born performance in this improbably charming and deft rewrite of Jane Austen's "Emma." Playing a privileged Beverly Hills teenager who can't help meddling in the love lives of everyone around her, she is thunderstruck when she finally discovers her own true love has been right under her bobbed nose the whole time. Paul Rudd, Brittany Murphy, Stacey Dash, Breckin Meyer and Dan Hedaya co-star.

Buzz Lightyear

7 p.m. on TNT
Movie: Saving Private Ryan
Steven Spielberg won the best director Oscar for this 1998 World War II drama, whose opening portrayal of the Normandy invasion is one of the most powerful war sequences in movie history. Tom Hanks stars as the captain in charge of a platoon assigned to go behind enemy lines and retrieve a private (Matt Damon) whose three brothers have all been killed. Giovanni Ribisi also stars, with Jeremy Davies in an affecting performance as the terrified interpreter.
